

EagleView Partner Program

Eagleview Edge™

Fueling data-driven workflow solutions for the construction industry

EagleView is partnering with leading software application providers to digitally transform the construction industry. EagleView Edge is a new partner program that enables software providers to integrate EagleView imagery and property data directly into their software applications. The program fosters the development of integrations that enable users to seamlessly access and consume Eagleview geospatial data, detailed property measurements and aerial imagery, from within their application workflows and features. The program also enables partners to work with EagleView to create joint marketing and sales plans for integrated solutions.

Program Benefits

EagleView Innovation

Leverage EagleView's high-resolution aerial imagery and big data as part of your solutions.

Dedicated Advisor

Collaborate with a dedicated point of contact to engage in product ideation and planning.

Technical Support

Gain access to APIs, testing, demo environments, Early Access Programs and solution integration support.

Joint Marketing

Develop joint solution messaging, collateral, and digital programs to drive demand.

Training

Take advantage of training events and materials to harness the benefits of integrated solutions.

Program Requirements

Market Presence – Partners should have a qualifying number of paying customers actively using their software applications. Startup companies are encouraged to apply.

Reciprocal Support – Partners must provide similar implementation and marketing engagement as mutually agreed, including a point of contact to serve as the primary liaison with EagleView.

Program Agreement – Once an application has been accepted, EagleView and the partner can sign a program membership agreement.
